

Harvard Kennedy School Japan Trek 2018, panelist for the Japanese Women Leadership Session.

Our president Makiko Tachimori was invited as a panelist to the “Japanese Women in Leadership Session Plan” of the Harvard Kennedy School Trek, 2018 on March 12th. The HKS Japan Trek brings current HKS students from all over the world to various parts of Japan and provides an opportunity for them to learn about and exposed to Japan – Japanese politics, economy, history, culture and so on. The purpose of the HKS Japan Trek is to foster and increase leaders in favor of Japan among governments and international organizations as well as private sectors where these HKS students will be active in. The Japanese Women in Leadership Session Panel objective is to present the situations in Japan (issues, challenges, achievements, future) to the HKS (Harvard University, John F. Kennedy School of Government) students and cultivate their understanding about gender issues in Japan and to obtain and discuss feed backs, thoughts, and constructive ideas.
